Letters for Criminals.

WASHINGTON, April 16.--An interesting story comes to the Postoffice Department from North Platte, Neb. One of four accessories to a murder near that place a year ago, has turned State's evidence. Two of the accomplices have been arrested by the police. The fourth, Myers, is still at liberty. The Postmaster of North Platte has been requested by the Sheriff and the Foreman of the Grand Jury to detain the letters passing through the office to and from the Myers family, believing that Eugene's wife knows where he is and is writing to him. They desire to open the letters and, after having read them, send them to their destination. The Postmaster asks the department whether he is authorized to do this. The department calls attention to the ruling of the department, that under no pretext are letters to be opened except by the persons to whom they are sent, if they can be found. Neither postmasters, inspectors, employees nor officers of the law can do so under any circumstances, but they must deliver them as addressed. Some other means, the department officials say, must be devised to ascertain Myers' whereabouts.

A fine of not less than $100 and not more than $500 will be imposed upon any employer in Massachusetts who shall discharge or threaten with discharge any employee for being a member of any labor organization or union, if a bill the Joint Committee on Labor has agreed to report to the Legislature becomes a Law.

Gambling has grown to be so common a cause of ruin in the smaller Massachusetts cities that a powerful movement has begun against the practice.

Speaker Carlisle thinks the House will continue in session until August. The explored coal-beds of Ireland contain 20,000,000 tons of workable coal, chiefly anthracite.

Rev. Louis Mysonheimer, the boy evangelist, was privately married to a Miss Noel, in St. Louis, last week.

The sensational rumors regarding the serious illness Sir John Macdonald are unfounded. He is simply suffering from sciatica.

It is estimated that there are more than a hundred clubs in New York City, and that their total membership comprises from 80,000 to 85,000.

Robert S. Gibson, said to be the oldest man in the United States, died at College Mound, Mo., at the age of one hundred and twenty-six years.

Mrs. Charles Linsley, of Elsworth, Maine, a religious fanatic, carried out a Bible teaching by deliberately cutting off her right hand, which had offended her.

A Georgia woman stopped a wedding because she was interested to the extent of having paid for the groom's clothes, with the idea that she was to be the bride.

At Griffin, Ga., this week, a man who had been Mayor of the city and one of its most prosperous and popular citizens, died a pauper in its poor house. Drink did it.

Hoboken, N. J., has a Mayor who was first elected upon a Democratic ticket and next on an Independent ticket, and now the Republicans have nominated him for a third term.

While returning to his private residence, the Speaker of the Newfoundland House of Commons was attacked by a number of roughs, beaten, knocked down on the ground and mercilessly kicked.

Rev. Howard Crosby and General Francis C. Barlow are at the head of the movement to impeach Supreme Court Judge Donahue of New York. It is claimed the specifications are such as to cause a great sensation.

New York, April 15th.—The Tribune, in an editorial on the possibilities of silver, says: The defeat of the Free Coinage bill in the House, and of the amendment offered to the same, appears to have put an end to all effort or desire in the Senate for wiser legislation on the silver question. This would be natural if there were reason to believe the vote for Dibble's amendment fairly represented the number of members of the House who are willing to favor the suspension of coinage in any form. Hence it is shrewd tactics on the part of the silver men to insist upon that construction of the vote. The debate proves that it is not the true construction. The speeches of some of the members who voted against the Dibble amendment indicate that they are ready to support the suspension of coinage in other modes or on other conditions. A rapid outgo of gold would quickly revive anxiety on the silver question.

Mrs. Mackay at Court.

New York, April 18.—A London cablegram says: Society journals describe Mrs. "Bonanza" Mackay's robes and jewels at the last royal drawing-room as a sensation. She wore a japon of ivory satin embroidered with wheat sheaves in seed pearls, a skirt of violet satin with the famous dress of Point d'Alencon lace which she bought from Empress Eugene. The first train was of ivory satin covered with lace, and the second gown trimmed with ostrich plumes. She wore a pointed bodice embroidered like the skirt, with wheat sheaves in seed pearls, with a band of ostrich feathers around the bust. In addition to this magnificence, the parure was composed of enormous sapphires and diamonds, and included a tiara, necklace, bracelets and ear-rings of these gems. The effect was gorgeous in the extreme, although not in good taste, and court critics express the opinion that there was more glitter than elegance in the toilet.

Constance Hesketh's Bankruptcy.

The Herald's London Cablegram says: A court case attracting much attention is that of Miss Constance Hesketh in bankruptcy, caused by Lady Hesketh, daughter of the late Senator Sharon, refusing to pay her sister-in-law's debts having had California remembrances of woman's wiles. Miss Hesketh's oral examination by the register was unique. She admitted maintaining a large hunt without much income and borrowing money at 60 per cent. interest from nurseries. Among her unpaid bills are some for an organ, a gift to her village church, twenty-four hymn-books, hatches to accommodate 150 rabbits and nine young crack hunters. There were no assets except the hopes of her creditors in her millionaire sister-in-law, and these are now lost. The register, on looking over the schedule, reminded himself of the question to Lady Gay: "Does your ladyship hunt?"

Collector Hager and Surveyor Timm.

WASHINGTON, April 16.—No action has been taken yet upon the nominations of Collector Hager and Surveyor Timm, but it looks now as if the attempt to defeat the confirmation of these officers will be futile. Charges had been preferred against both officers before they were brought into such prominence by the complaint of General Bee that they had treated the new Chinese Minister with discourtesy, but the Senate does not seem to be in a mood to reject any of the President's nominations unless convincing reasons are presented of the personal unfitness of the nominees to hold the offices. It cannot be learned that accusations of this character against either Collector Hager or Surveyor Timm have ever been proven. Secretary Bayard has not indicated his purpose of opposing the confirmation of either the Collector or Surveyor, and it is likely the whole matter will be dropped.

A Scranton, (Pa.), dispatch says: General Master Workman Powderly declares that Martin Irons, who has been indicted in St. Louis for conspiracy for tapping Jay Gould's private telegraph wire, must stand alone as any other citizen stands. The funds of the Knights of Labor will not be diverted to his defence.

The Democratic Attempt to Destroy the Wool Industry.

New York, April 18.—The Tribune's Washington special says: Memorials and petitions against the passage of the Morrison Tariff bill begin to come in thickly to each branch of Congress. Several were presented yesterday in the Senate. One was from a committee of the National Wool-Growers' Convention and others from Knights of Labor and similar organizations. The farmers are evidently astonished that the Democrats should seek to ruin an industry which employs 2,000,000 persons and has an invested capital of $500,000,000. Morrison will have his hands full in explaining to these people why he retains a duty of 106 per cent on rice, which is raised exclusively in the South and in which there is only a small capital invested, or why he proposed to retain the duty on sugar, also a Southern crop that has not been profitable, and in which not one-tenth as much capital is invested as in wool growing.

The memorial from the wool growers says in part: "As wool growers we unite in saying that in our opinion the present Administration is pledged by its previous utterances to adopt a policy which will enable American labor to compete successfully with the cheaper labor of foreign nations. It has been shown that the fine washed wools from these States cannot be grown at less than thirty cents a pound. In Missouri unwashed wool coats, to produce, 25 a pound. To place wool on the free list will be to destroy wool growing in the United States. Such action would seem to say to the wool growers and all others engaged in agricultural pursuits that their industries are unworthy of legislative consideration, and manufacturing only to have economic protection."

Labor vs. Capital.

New York, April 17th.—The Sun's Scranton special of the 16th says: "I have not had a chance to read it all, but think it is correct," said General Master Workman Powderly to-day, when he was asked about Gould's stenographic report of their last interview. "It is simply threshing the old straw over again. I did not expect, however, that our conversation would be printed. If I had supposed that it would be, I would have been a little more guarded in my remarks, and probably would not have employed the greased-pole figure in illustrating Koxie's position. Let Gould proceed with his threatened law suits as soon as he pleases. We are very anxious to meet him face to face in the courts, and he can't go ahead any too soon to suit us."

Powderly said to the World's Scranton correspondent: "If Gould is not making any more money out of the Missouri Pacific than he claims, we will be glad to take the road off his hands. I am confident that we could run the road to the satisfaction of the public and make money, without having any strikes."

Ex-President Arthur.

PHILADELPHIA, April 17.—The Times' New York special says: Ex-President Arthur's illness is daily assuming a more dangerous form. His condition is regarded as extremely critical. It is conceded by those most accurately informed of the case that the ex-President will never leave his home again. Despite all the secrecy with which his condition has been guarded both by his physicians and at his home, the fact is known that some ten or twelve days ago he made his will and prepared for the worst. He was then so ill that he had to be helped up in bed while affixing his signature to his last will and testament. His condition has not materially improved since. Fewer people every day are permitted to visit his bedside. About the only person who is at all times admitted is J. C. Reid, who was at one time his private secretary, and whom the ex-President appointed Shipping Commissioner of New York. Despite the statements that are going about that Arthur will be out in a few days, it is doubtful whether he lives three months.

The Connecticut House passed a bill giving women the right to vote in school districts.

Quebec Excited Over an Infamous Commerce With this Country.

QUEBEC, April 16.—The wholesale trading in young and innocent girls for purposes of prostitution has come to the notice of the authorities. Dozens of public houses in Chicago, New York, Boston and other cities of the United States have agents here who ingratiate themselves with young women to induce them to go to the States, where they are drawn into a life of infamy. This trade has been carried on to an alarming extent, sometimes fifteen girls being shipped in one week. The prices paid to the agents depend upon the looks of the girls and vary from $20 to $200. The police authorities and the clergy held a consultation to-day, over the abduction of two young women to Chicago by a woman who intends to dispose of them for immoral purposes. The girls left on Monday night and every attempt was made to arrest the woman within the Canadian line. The American Consul has been consulted and an important letter has been drafted for the British Consul at Washington. It is stated that over fifty girls have been sent to one Chicago House within a year.

How to Build Ships in this Country.

A Philadelphia gentleman who employs a large number of ships has a plan for restoring this industry to something even beyond its old time proportions. He says he can buy in England a new steamer of 2,500 tons dead weight capacity for $100,000, the duplicate of which cannot be built in this country for less than $150,000. The fixed charges to run such a vessel would be 21 per cent as follows: Interest on capital 7 per cent; insurance (by the year) 10 per cent, sundries and depreciations 5 per cent. Here is a difference of $10,500 per annum against the American ship. Of course there are advantages in some other directions, but they are not sufficient to overcome this difference which meets the purchaser at the very start and which stays by him so long as his vessel is afloat. Congress allows the American shipbuilders a rebate of 90 per cent of duties on all dutiable foreign material used in the construction of ships. Our Philadelphia friend would go a step farther, and not only return the full amount of duty where foreign materials are used, but the equivalent of such duty where domestic materials are used. This would, of course, be in the nature of a bounty. Neither the Protectionist nor the free trader could find fault with this course, as it would interfere with no existing duties or domestic industries. It would place the American iron shipbuilders on a level with the Clyde shipbuilders, and enable us not only to build our own merchantile marine, but compete with Great Britain in supplying foreign nations with tonnage. The question is one for the people to settle through Congress. There would probably be objection to the establishment of such a precedent of bounties.

One hundred and nine cigarmakers left New York at 6 o'clock Saturday evening by the West Shore Railway, for San Francisco, to take the place of the Chinese cigarmakers heretofore employed. They go out under the auspices of the Cigarmakers' International Union.

The gross weight of the through freight from California for the East in February over the Central and Southern Pacific lines and branches was 25,275,970 lbs. This is more than double the quantity sent in January. The total from San Francisco in February was 15,844,470 lbs.

It is said that General Grant's family have material for another book, consisting of the General's dispatches, army orders and letters. They will probably be arranged by Col. Fred. Grant, who is reported as saying that they will make agreeable matter for those interested in army affairs.

A private cable dispatch to Harper's announces that Sampson Low, the oldest publisher in London, died in that city on Friday, in the 89th year of his life.

The New York Herald's Washington correspondent says that Congressman Butterworth has received from the Cincinnati Knights of Labor a petition demanding that all immigration from China be prohibited; that persons employing Chinese be taxed from $1 25 to $2 a day for each man employed, the tax to be paid monthly in advance; that the President's proclamation promising protection to Chinese be withdrawn; that naval vessels be employed to search suspicious vessels for Chinese laborers, and that the penalty for each individual Chinaman carried by or on any vessel for the purpose of landing on American soil shall be not less than $1,000.

The Knights of Labor of Frankfort, Ind., have also sent a memorial to Congress demanding the prohibition of Chinese immigration.

The arrival of immigrants in California during the past week, according to the Immigration Association's report, largely exceeded those of any similar space of time yet recorded in that State. The number was 5,947, which does not, however, include those who came to the southern part of the State, whose number is estimated at 1,000, nor those immigrants who journeyed first-class, whose number is approximated at about the same figure. There are many laborers, farm hands, clerks and school teachers among the recent arrivals. The association is continually troubled by these classes asking for employment, and therefore requests that those who desire any help in these lines of business write to it, for there is an abundance of help to be obtained.

Senator Stanford is very much opposed to the abrogation of the Hawaiian Reciprocity Treaty, and when the matter comes up for consideration in the Senate the effect of the work that he has done in that behalf will be made apparent. He says he has received many letters from personal friends in California interested in the beet sugar industry, asking him to oppose the continuance of the treaty; but he feels that the interest involved in the case are paramount to those of a personal or commercial nature, and at the present time he will not consent to vote for the abrogation of the treaty.

Senator Hearst will introduce Clarence Greathouse to President Cleveland next Tuesday. The contest for the San Francisco Postoffice may now be said to be fairly begun. Mr. Greathouse hopes to bring to his aid the strong men from Kentucky and the South, and he feels confident of victory. On the other hand Sam Randall is doing all he can for Tully. It is the opinion of men who have watched the President's actions in relation to appointments, that the struggle will grow so hot between the two leading contestants that a third neutral man will be taken and the others left.

It is said that several important changes are about to be made by the President. The report is that Postmaster General Vias is to resign, and that he will be sent to the Australian Mission; that First Assistant Stevenson is to be made Postmaster General, and John Jamison, Superintendent of the Railroad Mail Service is to be succeeded by a New York man. It is also said that Rogers of Buffalo is to be made Public Printer on May 1st, and that at about the same time General C. W. Blair, of Kansas, is to succeed Land Commissioner Sparks.

Any one who walks the streets of this city, says the San Francisco Chronicle, or visits any place of amusement must be struck with the large number of strange faces which he meets, hence it is not surprising to learn that 9,000 Eastern people have entered the State during the past week. These strangers have had rather a dismal introduction to our climate, but it is to be hoped that the rains are at an end and that the sun will now be seen with great regularity. A few days of brilliant sunshine will make them forget the sulky humor of the weather.

Mrs. Mary A. Lake, formerly of Reno, was married in San Francisco on the 14th to W. S. Johnson, formerly employed by A. H. Manning. The best wishes of the JOURNAL go with them through life.

Notice has been received by the Reno agent for Blaine's book that the second volume had been forwarded and would be here in a day or two. People having subscribed are requested to be ready to receive the same.

A young lady watching the base ball game Saturday asked a young gentleman what a "lalah" was. After the y. g. had answered this hard one, she gave him another by asking what a "punky ty" and a "dicky ball." He "muffed" them both.

The Lyon County Times has agreed to do all the advertising ordered by the Board of Commissioners of that county for the next three months free of charge. This is probably an outcome of the rivalry between the two weekly papers there.

It is stated that passenger rates will probably continue as at present until about the 1st of May, by which time it is believed some arrangement may be made with the Pacific Mail Company by which its competition will be withdrawn. This will leave the overland companies free to adjust their differences, and it is believed that uniform, and of course considerably higher, rates of fare will soon thereafter be agreed upon.

THE MILITARY STAND IN.—The Carson Index says: General Webster, of the State Militia, writes to C. N. Harris, the Secretary of the Fourth of July Committee, that he proposes to order his Brigade to Carson on the Fourth, and leave no stone unturned to make a fine celebration.

Independent Order of Odd Fellows.
On the 26th inst. the Order will have attained the sixty-seventh year of its existence, and the event will be properly celebrated at Armory Hall on that evening, by the Reno Lodges, with a grand ball. At the present time the Order exhibits a record which is simply grand. The following statistics will show its strength, as well as the amount of money paid out for relief: Sovereign Lodge, 1; Independent Grand Lodges, (German Empire and Australia) 2; Subordinate Grand Encampments, 45; Subordinate Encampments, 1,980; Encampment members, 90,125; Subordinate Lodges, 8,246; Lodge members, 546,279; amount paid for relief in 1885, $2,203,021 20; California's record is as follows. Three hundred Lodges, 24,000 members; paid for relief and charities during the year, $196,000; Total number of initiations in subordinate Lodges from 1830 to May 2, 1886, 1,418,557; total number of reinstatements and admission by card, which average more than one-third the number of initiations, 439,510; grand total of admissions of all kinds, 1,858,076; members relieved, 1,220,466; widowed families relieved, 159,299; members deceased, 419,221; amount paid for relief, $41,682,434 42. Cash assets of the Order, at least $30,000,000.

Litigation Over Humboldt Property.
A Chicago dispatch of the 10th says: A bill was filed in the Supreme Court yesterday by Lathrop S. Hodges, Chas. L. Couries and Morrell O. Brown, Trustees for the bondholders of the Auburn Consolidated Gold Mining Company, seeking instruction from the court as to whether they could sell the property of the company. The company owns claims, quartz mills, etc., in Humboldt county, Nevada. It expended $200,000 in the lodes and machinery, and then was obliged to give a mortgage to secure an issue of the bonds to cover an indebtedness of $56,300. The bonds fell due February 13, 1884, when to avoid foreclosure the complaints were appointed trustees for the bondholders. The property has been sold for taxes, and $1,054 is necessary to redeem it.

Daggett's New Book.—The Enterprise says: "Legends of Hawaii," the forthcoming literary effort of R. M. Daggett, late United States Minister to the Sandwich Islands, upon which he was engaged for several months during his recent stay at San Diego, California, after returning from those beautiful isles of the blue Pacific, will be read with peculiar interest by us all. It will contain thirty or forty well written sketches of scenes and incidents connected with the ancient history of that sunny romantic kingdom, with its peculiar people, every syllable of whose language ends with a vowel, commencing with its earliest dreamy history and following its traditions, fairy tales and superstitions through the old cannibalistic and kingly years down to the disastrous advent of the missionaries in 1820. The book will be brought forth under the special auspices and assistance of King Kalakama, who personally contributes some of the sketches therein contained. Its publication has been delayed merely to receive one or two closing literary contributions from the king himself. Daggett is well known as a vigorous, deeply interesting writer. His opportunities for observation and information during his official career as the favored representative of the most favored nation were unlimited, and the character of the work cannot but commend itself to all, and to a prominent place in every good library.

W. C. T. U.—The regular meeting of the W. C. T. U. will take place at the residence of Mrs. J. S. Shoemaker this afternoon. A cordial invitation is extended to all interested, as well as to members to attend.
The State University at Reno promises to have a much larger attendance than the old institution at Elko.]

"Permanent Residents."
"Truth Teller," the spy and pungent correspondent of the Silver State, under the caption of "Senator," says: Permanent Resident Stewart is not in our city at present, and, so far, has manifested no disposition to entitle himself to the cognomen. This is disappointing the elite, as well as the leeches of Carson, who expected to have a grand house-warming when the Permanent Settler's mansion was completed, and wish to improve the time between now and election, after which he will probably emigrate. It is hinted now that the Central Pacific has not yet promised him its support, but he has great expectations of substantial aid from that source.

Ex-Minister Daggett, who is also in the fight for Senator, is a frequent visitor here. He is said to be the candidate of J. W. Mackay for the Senatorial toga, but whether this is more or less than idle talk your correspondent knoweth not. There are those who express the opinion that if Mackay puts money in the fight it will be for himself, and that later in the season he will be a candidate. This is mere speculation, however.

THE NATIONAL GAME.—The game of base ball at the grounds Sunday was not witnessed by as large a crowd as usual. The game was well contested for the first six innings when the boys seemed to weaken. The score stood as follows.

A member of the colored church in Denver undertook to thrash his pastor in the churchyard on Monday, and was getting along finely until the Reverend gentleman, who is said to have been Lieutenant Governor of Mississippi, drew a revolver and shot him in the foot.

The entire Republican State ticket in Rhode Island was elected, with the exception of Attorney General, which was carried by the Prohibitionists. The prohibition and the soldiers and sailors suffrage amendments were adopted by a practically unanimous vote.

A novel case was tried in Boone, Ia., recently. One man sold another a horse which he said was blind, and the purchaser sued to recover on a warranty, as he does not want a horse that can not see.
